

Search30% OFF BOOKS
& DIGITAL CHAPTERS*Home Destinations Thorn Tree forum Shop Hotels Flights Insurance

Thorn Tree travel forum

Branches Who's On PollsThorn Tree travel forum / Departure Lounge / Americas - South America

Wheel chair friendly travel/hostal in Banos

Replies: 0

jump to

← Back to topic listReply to this topicWatchRSStempleton

15-Apr-2010 10:47

Posts: 105

Wheel chair friendly travel/hostal in Banos

We have noticed in our month here that Banos is both flat, and well set-up for wheelchai Today we learned a little about why. There's a gentleman here named Alfonso Eliecer Morales who has been a leading figure in planning the city to be accessible. He has travelled with his wheelchair in many countries and learned as he went. Today we visited him at his hostal, which is quite unique. It is across the valley from Banos, has a spectacular view, often of the volcano when the clouds clear. The whole place is wheelchair accessible, and there is an apartment to be rented too if people want. The place is not fancy, more quaint, but Alfonso is a warm, friendly person. Transportation to and from Banos by taxi is $2 a trip. The place is called Las Granadillas, and there's a website www.hostal-lasgranadillas.com/banos.html

I find it very encouraging to find such a wonderful place can be enjoyed by all!

← Back to topic listReply to this topicWatchRSS